

Congratulations! You have a very special puppy from a breeder who cares about Dalmatian health.

Your puppy's blood has been submitted to the Canine Health Information Center (CHIC) Blood Bank. This blood will be stored for future research. We want to follow your puppy's health throughout their lifetime. While your puppy is healthy, and we hope it stays that way, we want to follow any conditions they may develop. In order to facilitate this, on your puppy's birthday each year, or anytime your puppy has a change in their health, please contact your breeder so they can update the health history at CHIC. By having the blood banked, and having owners continuing to update their dog's health history, it makes it easier for a researcher to have access to DNA to study specific diseases and hopefully, over time, develop tests.

Thank you for choosing a responsibly bred puppy.
